Tales Creates Tale With Delivery Wed.

A drab green truck pulled up in front of the Little Theater last Wednesday. A driver attired in a faded navy blue uniform leaped out with several dirty brown packages in his arms.

The man did just fought its way through the thick lowa clouds, illuminating the campus in all its summer splendor. Scarcely had he at ease, the driver suddenly spied Jerry Haver and Gary Volberding, tossed the packages in their general direction and raced off in his government vehicle.

That's right—Castle Tales have arrived and your copy is now available in Luther Hall. There's nothing to sign, nothing to pay— just stop by Haver and Volberding will be happy to toss them in your general direction.

Alum Day Includes Induction Ceremony For All Graduates

Alumni Day festivities will open at noon on May 30 in St. Paul's Parish Hall with an induction luncheon for alumni and graduating students. The induction ceremony will officially admit all graduates into the Alumni Association.

Speakers at the luncheon in charge of Mrs. William Engelbrecht, will be alumni president, Leonard Fritschel, and Pres. C. H. Becker.

Citations of merit will be awarded to two Wartburg graduates—Mrs. Edgar Jahn (Ina Voelker '37) of Falls Church, Va., and the Rev. Eduardo Ruiz ('23) of Puerto Rico.

Jehr Well-Known Author

Mrs. Jahr is a well-known author whose articles on home life and nursing have appeared in many popular magazines, among them the Parent's Magazine.

Pastor Roig, a native Puerto Rican, has been a missionary in the Caribbean for 28 years. He is now president of the Caribbean Synod ULCA.

According to Norm Fintel, alumni executive secretary, the awards have been given each year since 1949 by the Alumni Association in recognition of special service. The service may be unrelated to college. A board of directors selects the graduates to receive the awards.

Roig Unable To Attend

Pastor Roig will be unable to be here in person to receive the award. In a recent letter to Norm Fintel, he stated "I never entered my mind that my humble efforts in missionary activities of the church would receive such honor and recognition. The Alumni Association has been kind in remembering me and particularly in presenting me with an alumni citation of merit."

An alumni golf tourney for the men, a tea in Centennial Hall lounge for the ladies and tours of the new Student Union building will constitute the afternoon activities. A barbecue feed for all students, alumni and guests will be served by Mrs. Henry Grube, cafeteria manager, in the cafeteria at 5:30 p.m.

An Honor Day Convocation will be held in the evening. This is the first such program to be held recently and will feature the presentation of awards and letters to Wartburg students.

Snyder

Norheim

Switzerland, Italy and France.

The United States will welcome them back on August 22.

Travel is nothing new to Miss Snyder. Better known as "Wartburg's globe-trotter," she toured Japan last year, has visited South America and will be making her second trip to Europe, having been there in 1930.

Editor In Retrospect

Here it is. The Wartburg TRUMPET, volume 20, number 30 . . . the last issue this year.

Wartburg has had a good year . . . a year that the administration, faculty, students and alumni can all be proud of. However, pride does not come floating along a smooth path, but from meeting obstacles, surveying them and solving them.

Scan the editorials of the past school year and take pride in the things you met and accomplished.

Freshmen were vested with the green beanie and learned through unforgettable experiences the traditions that abound. Dr. Martin Wiederaenders died, and the campus mourned the loss of a leader with foresight.

Enrollment figures showed Wartburg College is a growing school, and the question of future growth was sighted and made a challenge. The inevitable "social problem" found its key in each individual. Elected leadership wanted to brighten its fangs and demanded that each person see and act on his own responsibility.

A successful Homecoming came and went, and the idea of the possibility of a campus congregation was sparked into a fire that burned until it became a major issue on the generally crowded Student Senate docket.

The Christmas season drew near and students worked hard so that spare minutes would take on the inner warmth of caroling and the joy of giving.

The first semester ended with the horror of two-hour exams. Then there was a slight enlightenment, and the realization that education isn't all books or all glamour, but a balanced mixture, became more real than an abstract theory.

Wartburg College recognized itself as a unit. However, the school is only one unit among many and the possibility of isolationism was met and discouraged.

Social activities abounded and situations demanded etiquette. The answer—courtesy. Spiritual Emphasis Week widened perspectives, but hard reality could not be ommitted and was reckoned with.

From unimpressive concrete forms, the Union became a beautiful structure . . . a structure destined to play a major role in the lives of future Wartburgers . . . a structure which needed strong and active government.

The student body project was picked by you as a student body and demanded your support. Pres. C. H. Becker became sick, and a campus prayed for his recovery and gave thanks when he returned to his desk.

Elections ruled the headlines this spring, and the importance of one vote took on renewed significance. Senior Day was welcomed, and you found out how much Wartburg was a part of you as you effervesced all over some prospective high schooler.

Wartburg grew this year because it is an institution of people and people must grow to live. To those who are leaving, Wartburg will always be alive . . . to those who are returning, there is an obligation to make that flame of life even brighter.

Footnotes To Faith:

Reflect Glory Of Christ

"Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house." Matthew 5:15.

Will any of us Christians go into a blackout this summer? Will we try to hide the light of Christ which shines through us either consciously or unconsciously?

The "bushel-covered lights," we who are Christians, do all we can to hide it or pass it off as if it didn't exist . . . refusing to speak on the subject . . . afraid to show earnestness even when we feel it most.

How many of us in our Christian college are constantly haunted by a nervous fear to stand up for our convictions and faith lest people should think us forward? This is especially true during the summer months when we are away from our predominately Christian environment here at Wartburg.

DeYoung

But this should not be. Christ shines through his followers, and we reflect his glory. The grandest motive that we as Christians can have is that, by our manner of life, our fellow men are constrained to glorify God.

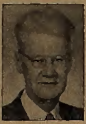
This summer we will talk to friends and neighbors, we will work at common tasks, we will inevitably play our part in the life of the community. For Christ's sake, we should do all this in shining faith.

No doubt, many of us have heard that simple little Sunday school song, "Hide it under a bushel? No, I'm going to let it shine." Perhaps we have even sung it ourselves. Why not let it be our motto for this summer, and let our lights shine for Christ.

Dedicated Service Rewarded With Hoods

It's only a matter of hours now until the largest number of graduates in Wartburg's history will be taking their final walk across the Knights Gymnasium stage.

Two presentations, however, will stand out with special significance among the numbers. Dr. G. J. Neumann and Dr. Henry F. Schuh will be vested with the symbolic hoods of honorary doctorates.



Neumann

These doctorates will be the 16th and 17th honorary degrees given by Wartburg College since 1948 when the school became accredited. However, many times the whys and wherefores are often passed over with a flippant "That's nice," or "Isn't that fine?" Such statements are an injustice.

Dr. Neumann, vice president of the college and head of the English Department, will be vested with the Doctor of Literature degree for 45 years of illustrious service to Wartburg College and his productivity in the field of Christian literature and poetry.

Dr. Schuh, president of the American Lutheran Church, will be awarded the Doctor of Divinity degree—the first in Wartburg's history—for his unusual ability and his great contributions and services to the Lutheran Church.

Each of these honorees has been screened by the Committee on Appointment and Rank, received the acceptance of the college faculty and approved by the Board of Regents.

Schuh

Both men have poured their time and many talents into that channel which they deemed most important—service. Service, not to advance themselves and their own individual interests, but rather to help their fellow men and to glorify and praise God.

These men are dedicated men, and the dedication they have toward their tasks has had a strong and meaningful influence on each of our lives. These men are being honored because they have unselfishly given of themselves so that our opportunities may be enhanced.

The hoods that you will receive, Dr. Neumann and Dr. Schuh, are the sincere token of the appreciation of Wartburg College for your many years of dedicated service. Thank you.

By Jarry Haver

After four years a very tired columnist is going to turn this typewriter over to some new and fresh blood in the body of one Bob Loslo.

As I look back in retrospect at the four years of my life that have been spent at Wartburg, I see a place I've learned to love. I see more than a place . . . I see an ideal. And though I'm leaving now, I can not say good-by, for Wartburg's memories will always live with me.

How can you say good-by to buildings that you've walked through every day? To a room that's been your home? To the battered and creaking doors of Old Main? To the Den coffee? To the boards of the Little Theater stage? To people you'll never see again? To these things there are no good-bys . . . only nostalgic memories.

During four years at Wartburg I have learned to know some professors as more than teachers . . . they have become friends to whom I turned during the periods of growing pains. Mr. Dickson, Miss Moehl, Mr. Maakestad, Dr. Sandberg, Miss Wolff, Mr. Hubbard, Dr. Hulme and Rev. Schick. To them I say thank you for the many hours of counseling and friendship.

To all those connected with the theater, KWAR and journalism . . . Thank you for being my friends. You have been good friends.

There were many students I never knew, and I'm sorry the pressure of college kept me from them. And there were some without whom I would have had a very unhappy life. Gary, Alf, Shirley, Tennie, Betty, Fred, Cy, Ken, Joan, Don, Ron, Jim, Con, Dee, Nan, Lavonne and many others that don't pop into my mind at this late hour. These people have ingrained themselves in my heart and there will remain.

Mrs. Wuebbens, whose nick-name, "Mom" is the highest tribute I can pay her.

And now, the four years are over . . . the work is completed . . . the degree is at hand . . . a new ladder awaits climbing.

I have been prepared to climb that ladder because a man named Dr. Becker is putting the best years of his life into a school called Wartburg that it might turn out men who are ready to face the world.

And I can start up the rungs of that new ladder because a girl named Margaret said "yes."

NATIONAL NOTIONS
By Stan Bendar

3 Dangers Of Losing The Individual Exists

Next week many of us will leave our formal education for the summer or perhaps for the rest of our lives. It is a time for reminiscences of our experiences with pedagogues and pedagogy.

Although our ideas on the nature of an education may differ quite radically and the purpose in our attending an institution of higher learning may not be crystal clear, most of us will agree that the experience has been worthwhile, and that we should not have been denied it.

Bendar

In this we are following the aim of the educational system of the United States, which is the education of the masses. But, perhaps the old proverb of losing sight of the forest for the trees should be turned about, perhaps our goal loses sight of the student for the student body.

In striving for more and more and more students on the higher levels of education, we trade the preferred education for the common education. Although flexible colleges are able to expand and multiply their enrollment, they run the risk of losing the individual to the masses.

The small college is a unique institution, granting the student privileges of wide association without loss of individuality.

Today, the nation is suffering a lean period in education with teachers and facilities at a low ebb. To give the students a fair chance, an unprecedented expansion must take place.

Not only an expansion of facilities but also an expansion of the small mind which allows the roadblock of prejudice to deny the minds of the colored.

The Supreme Court's ruling barring segregation in the schools is now history. It was a memorable step forward.

The Court, however, recognized that the changes prescribed by the ruling could not take place overnight and hoped for a gradual integration. Looking at the same subject a year later, we find a picture of frustration and procrastination.

Perhaps, we, the present generation of college students, are not as morally mature as our fathers were at our age, but we are more morally conscious because we have had to weigh our values more carefully in this changing world.

But we will have to do more about injustice than we have done so far—which is chiefly, to discuss it.

TRUMPET POLL REVEALS

Loop Crown, FAB Big Stories

By Valaria Gerlt
TRUMPET Feature Writer

Sanction of the Fine Arts Building, Oct. 2, and the capturing of the Iowa Conference basketball championship, March 5, rank as the top stories appearing in the '54-'55 Wartburg TRUMPET.

In addition to these "year's bests," a TRUMPET poll showed that reader's choices ranged all the way from Dr. Hulme's appointment to the seminary faculty to the engagement of two students on campus.

Dean Earnest Oppermann said, "I believe the agreement to finance the new Fine Arts Building was most important in the development of Wartburg."

Sophomores Helene Bencke and Ruth Schwerin also chose the Fine Arts story as this year's biggest.

Raymond Norheim, student social director, asserted, "The basketball conference championship would be my first choice and the Fine Arts Building, second."

Fintel Picks Basketball

Public relations director, Norm Fintel, said, "I would pick the story on the conference victory, as well as the one featuring the Student Union Council."

Glinda Deines, freshman, voiced the same opinion. "I think the basketball conference championship was of most interest to the campus."

The story of Dr. Hulme's position at Wartburg Seminary was chosen by freshmen Rosemary Limburg and Ervin Janssen.

Miss Limburg stated, "The counseling service and classes under Dr. Hulme have meant so much to all of us, yet we know that in this position he will be of service to many others. The fact that it was news to most of us also made it a great story."

Nothing in Particular

Senior Joel Maring declared, "There was no one particular story, but I feel the whole coverage of the Student Union progress was good."

Of particular interest to sophomore Don Oberdorfer was the Fitness situation as reported by columnist Sue Bender.

Ruth Fritschel, senior, said, "I think the TRUMPET's coverage of the Student Senate was very good this year, however, the story of the Senate debate in the May 7 issue particularly interested me."

This year's biggest story, according to senior Louis Novak, was a front page news article on a recent engagement.

15 States, 3 Foreign Countries Represented By Current Registration Figures For 1955-56

Fifteen states and three foreign countries will be represented on the Wartburg campus next year with current registration climbing to new heights, according to Norm Fintel, public relations director.

As of Tbursday, current registration is running 59 ahead of last year's.

Saturation Point Reached

"We have almost reached the saturation point in girls now," said Fintel, "but we still have room for a few boys. We'll be able to accommodate about three hundred freshmen, and then we'll have to stop taking applications."

Two hundred and eighty-six freshmen have already applied for admission, compared to two hundred and twenty-seven last year at this same time.

Over 700 Expected

"Our enrollment next year will probably exceed the seven hundred and twenty-five mark," revealed Fintel.

Two students are expected to come from Iran, one girl from Greece and one from Canada. One student has enrolled from Wyoming. He will the first from that state to attend Wartburg.

Other states represented are Colorado, California, Kansas, North Dakota, Nebraska, Illinois, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Minnesota, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and Ohio.

WITH YEAR'S WDRK BEHIND THEM

Co-Editors See Bigger Fortress On The Horizon

By Cy Wainscott
News Editor, TRUMPET

"This has been one job where the right hand has had to know what the left is doing."

So saying, Fortress Co-Editor Nancy Graese sank into a squeaking chair behind a familiar Publications House desk and hegan to toy with a stubby blue pencil.

"Now Ron and I are ready to edit a yearbook," the attractive blonde continued, "last year we weren't."

Across the table, Ron Retzlaff, who with Nancy shares the editorship of the 1955 Wartburg yearbook, sat nodding his head in agreement.

"We hit plenty of snags along the way," he commented, "but I think that we are going to have one of the most beautiful books in the college's history—when it gets here."

Refers To Delivery Delay

Retzlaff was referring to the delay in scheduled delivery of the annuals because of production stoppage at the printing plant.

Asked what the high point of the year at the Fortress command post was, both editors replied that that was still to come. "We won't be able to really relax until the books are in the students' hands."

This year's book, which is expected to be distributed on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, will be a larger one than previous Wartburg annuals. Page size has been increased to 8½ by 11 and the book will be bound with a three-color padded cover.

Employ Offset Printing

New offset printing method employed this year has made it possible to use a greater number and variety of pictures and art work, the cohorts revealed.

"Was it worth it? I don't know," the distaff co-editor pondered the answer to the question. "I know I wouldn't do it again—neither of us would—but we're too close to it now to say. I think after awhile it will seem worth the 40 hours a week spent rushing to meet inescapable deadlines — now it doesn't.

"There are rewards too," the rotund Wisconsinite reflected, "in learning how to use your time to greater advantage so that every minute will count—as it often has to."

Retzlaff Graduates Tuesday

Retzlaff, who will graduate Tuesday, enrolled in Wartburg as a freshman in 1851 and has been active in band, baseball, Chi Rho, Luther League, Wartburg Players and this year was initiated into Alpha Phi Gamma. The Tigerton English major plans to enter Wartburg Seminary next year.

Nancy, from Loveland, Col., came to Wartburg last year from Colorado University. While here, she has starred in two Little Theater productions and actively participated in Wartburg Players, KWAR and is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity.

A four-year teaching student, Nancy will graduate this week with an English major. On June 18 she will be married to Wartburg Seminarian Ted Fritschel and in the fall will return with him to Dubuque. There she will also continue in the journalism field as an employee of a hill city newspaper.

Co-editors Ron Retzlaff and Nancy Graese enjoy a coffee break in the Den.

7 Summer Brides Honored At Party

Honoring seven senior women planning summer weddings, graduating coeds held a farewell get together Wednesday evening at Cotta House.

Those feted were Mary Lou Pollock, Millie Schulz, Pat Graessle, Elaine Lillich and Tennie Wuebbens.

Embroidering autographed tea towels provided the evening's diversion. Gifts were presented the honorees. Refreshments served from a table centered by pink peonees and featuring black graduation cap nutcups concluded the courtesy.

Fortress Delivery Delayed Till June 1; Plant Trouble Blamed For Late Books

Students should not look for their 1955 Fortress before June 1, according to word received this week from the publisher, Semco Press, of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Richard Struck, production manager for Semco, said in a telephone conversation Wednesday morning with Miss Margaret Wolff, Forrtess adviser, that at least four or five days' work remained to complete the book.

Fortress Staff Innocent

Struck found the Fortress staff in no way at fault but blamed plant breakdown and loss of several employees for the delay. He said this was the first time in 18 years such a situation had delayed publication.

Final Fortress copy reached the publisher on March 21. Allowing 45 days for publication, according to the Fortress' contract with Semco, the books should have reached the campus during the first week in May.

Fortresses To Be Mailed

Graduates will be mailed their Fortress as soon as the books arrive. If the books do not arrive before June 3, the rest of the student body will also receive its Fortress by mail.

Students are asked to notify either Tom Menk or Jim Haehlen, Fortress co-business managers, if they have any change of address since it was given to the registrar at the beginning of the second semester.

Wiederaenders On Faculty

Richard A. Wiederaenders, son of the late Dr. Martin Wiederaenders, has been secured as instructor in science and math at Wartburg for the coming year, recently announced Dean of Faculty A. E. Haefner.

Richard Wiederaenders received his B.A. from Wartburg in 1949, having had his schooling interrupted by service in World War II. After teaching for several years in West Waterloo High School, he entered the graduate school of the University of Minnesota in 1951.

Since receiving his M.A. from Minnesota in 1953, he has been teaching math and physics at high school and junior college, Estherville. His position at Wartburg will be an addition to the present staff.

Wiederaenders is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, professional education fraternity. He is married and has a son, John, 2. At present the family plans to live with his mother at 217 11th St., NW in Waverly.

This is the second appointment made thus far, with Bob Campbell, former Wartburg grad, having been added to the coaching staff to replace Ax Bundgaard, who is going to the University of Iowa to do graduate work. Bundgaard has a graduate assistantship and will coach freshmen basketball.

Knights End Season Here At 2

Diamondmen Meet LaCrosse Teachers After Splitting With ISTC, 3-2, 6-3

By Stan Vegel
TRUMPET Sports Writer

Final action for Wartburg's baseball team will be staged today with Wisconsin State College of LaCrosse, at 2 p.m. on the home diamond.

This week the Knights divided a two-game series with Iowa State Teachers College to give Wartburg a 9-5 record for the season.

Last Monday the Knights put out a Teacher rally in the ninth inning to take a 3-2 victory. It was the first loss in the last six games for ISTC.

Bob Holm, who relieved Fred Jaspers in the eighth, walked the bases full with two out in the final inning when Wartburg's third baseman Bill Bomhoff raced over behind the dugout in foul territory to make a last ditch catch of a towering pop-up to end the game.

Wartburg scored all its runs in the first four innings. In the first frame Stan Kittleson doubled and scored on Bomhoff's single.

TC Knots Score

TC lashed out a single and a double to tie the game up, 1-1, in the second inning.

Art Margheim led off Wartburg's half of the third with a triple. Kittleson, who singled twice and doubled once in four trips, drove Margheim in to give the Knights a 2-1 lead.

Wartburg scored again in the fourth on a walk, a stolen base and an error. Jaspers, the winning pitcher, allowed only three hits until the eighth when the first Teacher batter homered and was followed with a single and walk. Holm came in to retire the side for Wartburg.

In a return game Wednesday at Cedar Falls, TC won, 6-3. The Teachers worked three Knight pitchers for five walks and one hit while scoring five big runs in the second inning.

Holm First On Mound

Holm started for Wartburg. He issued two walks in the first, but a double-play got him out of trouble without a run. Continued erratic control in the second inning caused Coach Earnie Oppermann to replace Holm with pitcher-outfielder Norbert Gauerke. Gauerke faced only two batters, walking both.

Jaspers, who had hurled 7 1/3 innings two days before, relieved Gauerke and in the remaining 7 1/3 innings gave up only five hits.

Wartburg scored once in the first and twice in the ninth. TC pushed another run across in the sixth to pad the victory margin.

John Heine, four year letterman at first base, and Gauerke are the only seniors who will be finishing their collegiate careers for Wartburg today against LaCrosse. Oppermann will have an almost all-veteran team returning next year.

Tee-Men Win Loop Crown With Two-Stroke Victory

Driving and putting their way from a seven stroke deficit after the first nine holes, the linksters nosed out Dubuque University by two strokes to win the IICA golf championship on the local greens last Friday and Saturday.

This marked the first time in Wartburg's history that the clubmen have been able to land on top of the annual honor race.

Lynch Medelist

Jim Lynch, only senior on the squad, closed his collegiate career in grand style by shooting a three over par 73, his lowest of the year, to cop medalist honors.

Steinhauer

Harold Steinhauer, junior, drove the ball for a 10 over par 80, but compiled the best individual mark during the regular season of play with a six-win and two-loss record.

Norman Scott, sophomore, added another 80 strokes and Wendell Nolting, freshman, an 85, to lead the Wartburgers over Dubuque, Luther and Upper Iowa.

Team Wins Only One Game

During regular season's play the whole team was able to win only one contest, that coming at the expense of Upper Iowa U., 11½ - 3½, but two matches ended in 7½ - 7½ deadlocks. Five losses were absorbed with heaviest point toll going to Iowa Teachers as the Knights picked up jnst 3½ points to the opponents' 20½ in the contests between the two.

Participating in the annual Iowa College Handicap tournament at Waveland, the tee-men hit an all time high with 361 strokes to finish last in six-team competition.

Knights Scare Dubuque U. But Fade To Second Place In Loop Conference Meet

By Dele Kepitzke
TRUMPET Sports Writer

Wartburg's surprising tracksters came within three points of ending Dubuque University's string of Iowa Conference track titles in the loop meet held here last Saturday.

The Spartans had to come from behind in the last few events to overcome a slight Wartburg lead. Final results gave Dubuque 58 points, Wartburg 55 and third place Luther 34.

Bill Bomhoff led the Knights effort with his stirring performances in capturing both the 100- and 220-yard dashes, plus anchoring Wartburg's mile relay team.

Luther Has Star

Luther produced the individual star in double winner Rod Ellickson. Ellickson, a freshman, set a new conference record of :50.0 seconds in the 440-yard dash, and then came back to edge out Iowa Wesleyan's Ralph Peters in the 880-yard run.

Adix

Dubuque produced another double winner in George French, the Canadian star, who won both the mile and the two-mile run. French, a junior, has now won the mile three straight years and the two mile for two.

Wartburg's other first came in the 120-yard high hurdles as N. Bose beat his brother, Chuck, to the tape. Chuck Bose came back to score another second in the 220-yard low hurdles while Nelson picked up a fifth.

Unmacht Gets Seconds

The Knight's weight man Jim Unmacht picked up seconds in both the shot put and discus. Bob Adix got a second in the javelin and tied for second in the high jump.

5 Records Fall

Five school records fell during the 1955 season. In field events J. Unmacht threw the shot put 43'4½" to break his own mark, while Bob Adix jumped to new indoor and outdoor records in the high jump. He leaped 6'⅝" indoors and 6'1¼" outdoors.

The Bose brothers set new marks in the hurdles. Chuck ran the 220 low hurdles in :25.5 and Nelson ran the 120 yard high hurdles in :15.6. Bomhoff ran the 220 yard dash in :22.5 for another new school mark.

Off-Campus Annexes Capture Track Crown In Intramural Meet

Thirty-three points were enough to give off-campus annexes the intramural track championship held last Monday on the local cinder track.

Alton Zenker, Grossmann III, was the top individual scorer with 15 points. He garnered firsts in the 100-yard dash, 120-yard low hurdles and broad jump.

Wayne Venter added 10 points to the winner's total, capturing the 880 and mile runs.

Other team totals were North Hall, 28; off-campus, 18 2/3; Grossmann III, 16; Grossmann Basement, 8; and Grossmann II, 4 1/3.

An intramural plaque will be placed in Knights Gymnasium, and names of teams winning championships will be inscribed.

Grossmann II Wins Slugfest With III

Doing everything but walking away with the bases, Grossmann II won the intramural softball crown by outclassing third floor, 20-8, in playoff finals Wednesday.

The game broke wide open in the sixth inning when, aided by numerous errors, the second floorites piled up eight runs.

Athletics on the Wartburg campus the past year continued to keep pace with the other improvements around the college.

Of the seven major sports offered at Wartburg, four showed marked signs of advancement and the other three followed a status quo policy. The amount of this change that was effected by the combining of the north and south divisions of the Iowa Conference into the present league setup is impossible to ascertain.

Be it sufficient to say that little, if any, of the improvement in athletics at Wartburg can be attributed to this change. Before this year's records are compared with those of last year, it should be pointed out that these "improvements" or this "progress" that is being referred to, will be measured in terms of statistics and records achieved.

The amount of sportsmanship displayed by Wartburg athletes should not be slipped over here, and, in this area, it must be said of the college's athletes in general, they have proven themselves on and off the field to be men of high Christian Ideals. But, on with the record of progress.

Following the sports through chronically, football must be dealt with first. Last year, with a mark of 4-4, Wartburg's footballers captured the top spot in the north division and bowed before the south division champs, Iowa Wesleyan, in a post season tilt, 33-14.

During the past year, Coach Norm Johansen led his team to the best record ever compiled by a Wartburg grid team, 5-2-1. However, this was only good enough for second slot in the revamped conference as the Knights grabbed five of six loop outings.

In wrestling a record of 3-4 was achieved this year. Last year the grapplers tied with Luther for the loop crown. No conference meet was staged this year.

Coach Ax Bundgaard led his basketball squad to a conference championship this year, posting a loop mark of 13-2. Last year the Knights wound up in third place in the north division and at the same time compiled the highest won-lost percentage of any previous cage Knight team, winning 15 and dropping only 5.

Turning to spring sports, the Knights showed some real improvements. Earnest Oppermann led his upstart baseball nine to third place in the league with a conference slate of 8-4. Last year the diamondmen copped only two loop contests to finish one notch above cellar-dwelling Westmar.

Golf and track were the most startling of athletic achievements this year. The Knight tracksters raced Dubuque down to the final wire in the conference meet before settling for second place. Last year the cinder squad wound up fifth.

Out on the links, the Knights stunned opponents by capturing the loop meet, bettering their third place standing of last year.

Tennis suffered a bit this year as Wartburg's net team finished third in the conference meet. This compares with a tie for second place with Dubuque in last season's meet.

Netmen Wind Up Third In League Tennis Finals

Wartburg's netmen finished third as the Knights hosted the Iowa Conference tennis finals here last Saturday. Upper Iowa University, playing a "hard to beat" season role, finished first in the meet.

Bob Cornwell and Norm Melchert won their first round in singles play. Les Huth and Bill Thalacker took their first in the doubles. However, none of the Wartburg netmen came through with a win in the second round of action.

Upper Iowa University finished with a total of 11 points, winning both the singles and doubles titles. Luther finished second with seven points, followed by Wartburg with four; Dubuque, three; Simpson, two; and Central, none.

Wartburg finished its regular net season with a 3-7 record, posting two victories over Coe and beating Central once. Losing only one senior, Norm Melchert, the team will have have nine freshmen and one junior returning next year.
